Erect Your Memorial While You Live

SELECTIONS of designs and quality of granite may be made at your home if application is made at our office.

Accurate and careful estimates will be made. Confer with us and receive our personal service free of charge.

It is fast becoming a present day duty to erect a memorial while you live, and not leave this duty for others to perform. Do not leave this sacred mark of respect to others. There are millions of graves in this country neglected and unmarked through carelessness and lack of interest. Therefore be not one of the millions.

We handle all kinds of Cemetery goods in Marble or Granite, both foreign and domestic. Can furnish Grave or Plot Enclosures in Marble or Granite. We do more work in this section than all other concerns. Let us hear from you. We will call and see you and let you look through the best line of goods you ever saw. Drop us a card, we will do the rest, and oblige.
Yours very truly,

JOE MINER & SONS, - Rogersville, Tenn.

Appalachia Items

Vernon, the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Cooper, died Saturday night at the home of his parents here of pneumonia, following an attack of measles. The remains were taken to Bristol for burial.

G. W. Ringley spent Sunday with home folks near Bristol.

A. L. Sturm is remodeling one of his main street properties for occupancy by Mrs. M. L. Stallard as millinery and dressmaking shop.

C. W. Redfield spent Sunday with friends in Bristol.

Work on the new town hall and jail is progressing nicely, the second story being about completed. The structure is of brick and will be one of the nicest buildings of the kind in this section when completed.

J. H. Thomas was a business visitor to Clinchport Tuesday.

E. P. Dye spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks near Benham.

J. P. Hendricks and A. S. Smith were at Clinchport Tuesday doing some work for the Southern railroad.

W. W. Williams and D. G. Raley, purchasers of the B. W.

Hasty building on Main street, are having the second story remodeled this week, and will remodel the first story later when Mr. Hasty will have vacated.

Notwithstanding that Saturday night was pay day in Appalachia, and there is usually quite a good deal of drunkenness and rowdiness on these nights everything was more quiet, and better behavior was noted than for several months. Credit for this change is given our new town sergeant, W. Y. Tucker.

The Addington Agency is building several new cottages on their lots near the Interment depot.

Mrs. C. C. Fleenor, who has been very ill for some time, is improving.

Miss Carrie Everage and Clinton F. Malcom were quietly married last Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother here, in the presence of the bride's family, Rev. Harry G. Mohl officiating.

The bride was attractively attired in a tailored suit of midnight blue with gray trimmings. Her flowers were bride's roses. Mr. and Mrs. Malcom left immediately after the ceremony over the Southern for Bristol, the home of the groom's family, for a short visit. They will make their home in Appalachia.

Mrs. Malcom before marriage was chief telephone operator for the Stonega company at Stonega for the past ten years. The groom is an employee in the car department of the Southern Railway here.

The Boy Scouts, of Appalachia, and Scoutmaster, Prof. Wolfe, principal of the high school were most delightfully entertained by the Girl Scouts, and their leader, Mrs. M. J. Hoff, at Mrs. Hoff's pretty home here Saturday night from 7 to 9 o'clock.

A most enjoyable evening was spent in playing games, and vocal and instrumental music added much to the pleasure of the guests.

Refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, pickles, stuffed olives, and delicious home made candies were served. The Girl Scouts present were: Misses Mabel Peake, Rachel Wolfe, Inez King, Elizabeth Herndon, Mollie Strong, Margaret and Elizabeth Guntner, Mary Breeding, Elizabeth Pannel, Cleo, Trigg, Mary Jenkins, Mabel Jesse, and the boys were: Scouts Charlie Cornett, Roy Dobyns, Ralph Roder, Robert Hendricks, O. T. Smith, Paul and Harry Cable, John Hagar, John King and Charlie Whited.

needs of the refugees in Allied countries.

Cable reports to the National Headquarters of the Red Cross show that distribution depots are in operation in Lilla, Laon, Amiens, Mazieres and Verdun, in France and at Adinkerke and Burges, Belgium. Refugee garments shipped during January to those depots totalled 229,060 separate articles. Some of the largest items were 23,000 men's shirts, 22,500 children's petticoats, 41,000 chemises and 16,000 blouses. In addition to the work of the seven distributing depots 5,600 garments were given to the needy in Paris during the month.

Every survey that has been made in Europe shows that the lack of clothing is one of the most serious problems faced by the population struggling with reconstruction. To help them the American people will be asked to donate a minimum of ten thousand tons of cast-off garments.
